Journey from SEC to ROBERT BOSCH

Duraimurugan Arjunan, Senior Project Manager, Robert Bosch.

Duraimurugan Arjunan, Senior Project Manager, Robert Bosch. Campus to corporate is a life-changing transformation. I am Duraimurugan Arjunan, I pursued my Bachelor of Engineering from SEC between 2002 to 2006. I got my specialization in Electronics and Communication Engineering I currently work as an Senior Project Manager, Robert Bosch. My experience with SEC has taught me a fundamental thing – embrace each opportunity that you encounter. SEC has also taught me the life skills which are the utmost tools to tackle the job environment. I was no exception. Coming from a rural background, even though I was not financially independent. As a lateral entry student, I found it difficult to adapt, but our faculties helped me a lot in this regard. I had a high fear of the M3 and M4 papers, which are very tough for lateral entry students, but the Math Department faculty helped me a lot to overcome this hurdle. In our department, our faculties helped me a lot, and as Socrates said, "I cannot teach anybody anything; I can only make them think," here our faculties made me think about what's next. SEC College of Engineering welcomed me with merit-cum-mean scholarships, and I got the merit scholarships all three years. I thank the SEC management.

Journey from SEC to ORACLE

P.Manikandan, Technical Lead, Bengaluru, India

In 2013, I started my journey in SEC by pursuing Bachelor of Engineering degree in Electronics and Communication Engineering. During that period, I had the opportunity to learn from some of the most experienced professors in the field. They provided me with guidance and support in all aspects of my education, from choosing the right projects to conducting research and participating in workshops and conferences. Looking back at my undergraduate experience, I feel that it was a truly transformative time in my life. I learned so much, not only in terms of technical knowledge but also about myself and my place in the world. I made lifelong friends and developed important relationships with mentors who continue to influence my life today.

I am also grateful to have had such wonderful mentors and guides during my studies at SEC. Their support and expertise were critical to my success, and I will always remember the lessons they taught me
